GENE SERBEAGE. Thomas, Schofield, and nany of their staff officers, are going to attend he rounion of the Army of the Cumberland, a Chicago, on the 15th and 16th of De-em-center Morton and Secretary Mc-Calloch.

Allusion was made in these dispatches some days ago, to a conversation between Senator Morton and Secretary McCalloch, on financial topies. The following is a more extended ac-count of the interview: "The conversation turned on the subject of returning to specie turned on the subject of returning to specie payments. Senator Morton said it was the duty of the Government to resume coin payments as soon as possible, and that in his opinion, all other financial questions were of misor importance. The question for the mode of paying the bonds was then discussed. Mr. Morton held that the Government could use the present legal-tender notes to pay the principal of the first-twenties, but that that question would become unimportant when the Government returned to specie payments, and would be rendered important only by the long continuance of the depreciation of the currency.

"Senator Morton asked the Secretary what legislation he would recommend with a view of effecting the recumption of gold payments, and understood him to reply that he did not think any legislation would accomplete much to bring it about, unless it was an increase of the tariff and the adoption of such other measures as would be calculated to develop the resources of the country and improve the credit of the Government. To this Mr. Morton replied that in his opinion it would take a long time to bring resumption about in that way. Secular Morton said nothing about introducing a hill to pay off the five-twenties either in gold ecator Morton sala nothing anous mirrousem, bill to pay off the five twenties either in gold or greenbacks, but said it would be time to any off our debt after we had made our cur-ency good."—New York Trans, Nov. 30 Mr. Branders, of England, proposes to ap-

Ms. Brander. of England, proposes to apply the three-penny postage principle to all travel throughout the kingdom. He shows that in the year 1887, %, 500, 600 passenger trains ran over 71 000, 600 miles, carrying 231, 900, 900 passengers. This traffic produced £14, 724, 302, giving an average of 21 miles and 73 passengers for each train, or about 34 passengers per mile, and an average fare for the present average jurgery of fourteen pance. Mr. Braddon estimates that to diminish the average trate of fare to an actual uniform fare of 3d. third class, 6d. second class, and 1a for first-class fare to any part of the Kingdom, would increase six-fold the present amount of travel, and so increase the agreement carrying of the railroads from £14, 750, 900 to £13, 200, 900. This estimate only assumes that a reduction in the expense of travel will have as great an effect to increase the amount of travel as the like reduction in the postage of letters under Sir Rowland Hill's post office plan, with its modern improvements, has had to increase the number of letters transmitted. Some experiments in the reduction of fares upon the English railroads strongly confirm Mr. Braddon's srgument A reduction of fares to one-sixth their former figure on the London and Northwestern rail; way so increased the travel in one year that net return fell only a thight percentage be-

Man. Lustin and her two children were burned to death at Sing Sing, on Saturday evening, in consequence of the upsetting of a kerosene lamp. The mother was holding her infant in her arms and her little boy, aged three years, was playing under a table on which a kerosene lamp was burning. The illittle fellow in his play kicked the table, and the kerosene spilling over ignited, exploding the lamp. The finning fluid ran down upon the boy, setting his citching on fire. The mother, seeing his peril, placed her babe upon the floor and rushed to the rescue of her son. She was in tames in a moment, and the treacherous fluid also snewed the triagent and set it clothing on fire. The piercing shrieks of the mother and her children soon brought the meighbors to her rescue, and the consuming fiames were speedily extinguished, but not until the three victims were so horribly burned as to result in death.

reaching, the following hints in regard to selection of poultry, may be regarded as

A young turkey has a smooth leg and soft bill, and the eyes bright and the feet moist—old turkeys have seally, stiff feet. Young fewis have a tender skin, smooth legs, and the breast bone yields readily to the pressure of the finger. The best are those that have yellow legs. The feet and legs of the old few! look as if they had seen hard service in the world. Young douks feel tender under the wing, and the web is transparent. The best are thick and hard on the breast. Young gees have yellow bills, and the feet are yellow and supple; the skin may be easily broken by the head of a pin; the breast is plump and the fat white. An old goose is unfit for the human stomach.

A schan Gint, 18 years of age, while left in charge of three children of the McUniloch family, near Corning, N. Y., last Wednesday, in a fit of rage at the youngest child for being freefal, threw it upon the floor, stamped upon it until it was almost lifelest, and then roasted its hands on the hot stove. When the mother returned home at night it was dead. The gir was arrested and the corner's jury is in vestigating the case.

Toe Philadelphia North American, in mentioning the fact that the State of Pennsylvania point 655,662 votes at the late Presidential election, while it point 476,642 at the election of 1860, when the population was less than three millions, argues that the State must now have a population of about four millions, which shows a much greater increase than the State has ever been oredited with
